

DH Website Services

Sales Onboarding Guide

Everything you need to sell confidently from day one.

1. Who We Are

DH Website Services is a full-service web design and development agency. We build fast, professional websites for businesses of all sizes and industries, from sole traders getting online for the first time to established companies looking to modernise their presence.

We manage our own hosting infrastructure, which means we can offer clients a complete service: we build the site and we keep it running. Our clients don't need to deal with third-party hosting providers or figure out technical maintenance, we provide everything they may need.

We're a small, hands-on team. That means clients deal with the same people from the first conversation through to launch and beyond which means no account managers, no handoffs, no being passed around.

2. What We Sell

Website Build Packages

We offer three build packages. Every package includes SEO as standard.

	Basic	Intermediate	Enterprise
Price	£399	£799	£1,499

Enterprise builds include full content creation meaning we write the copy, source imagery, and handle the website's brand identity. This is the premium offering for businesses that want to hand everything over.

Hosting & Maintenance Plans

After the build is complete, we offer ongoing hosting plans. This is a monthly recurring service that keeps the site live, updated, and performing well. The first month for Starter (only) hosting is free for all new build clients.

	Starter	Professional	Business
Price/month	£25	£49	£89
Content Updates	1/month	3/month	Unlimited
Support	Email 48–72hr	Priority	Priority
Backups	Weekly	Weekly	Weekly
SEO Health Check	—	✓	✓
Uptime Monitoring	—	✓	✓
Performance Tuning	—	—	Weekly
Strategy Review	—	—	Quarterly
First Month	FREE	—	—

The hosting plans are not mandatory as clients can take just the build. However, you should be upselling the hosting which is not too hard as most clients will opt for a hosting plan because it removes the hassle of managing the site themselves.

3. Your Commission

You earn 10% commission on every website build you sell, and 10% of the monthly hosting fee for every client you bring on that stays on a hosting plan.

Basic (£399)	Intermediate (£799)	Enterprise (£1,499)
£39.90 per sale	£79.90 per sale	£149.90 per sale

Build commission is paid on completed, paid builds. Hosting commission is paid monthly for as long as the client remains on a plan so the more clients you retain, the more you earn every month on top of new builds.

Hosting Commission (Recurring Monthly)

	Starter	Professional	Business
Hosting Price/mo	£25	£49	£89
Your Commission/mo	£2.50	£4.90	£8.90
Annual (if retained)	£30.00	£58.80	£106.80

4. Who to Target

We sell to any business that needs a website or has an existing site that isn't performing. The best leads share one or more of these characteristics:

- No website at all: losing work to competitors who do have one
- A website that looks outdated, isn't mobile-friendly, or doesn't load properly
- A business that relies on word of mouth but wants to grow
- A sole trader or small team where the owner makes the decisions; no procurement process
- Any business that gets enquiries online and could convert more of them with a better site

5. How to Sell

The Email Approach

Use personalised cold email as your primary outreach method. Generic mass emails don't work, the key is one specific observation about each prospect's current online presence. (Obviously volume = more leads, however the goal is to be as personable as possible and to not send duplicate emails to business')

Rough Template:

Subject: Found something on [Business Name]'s site

Hi [First Name],

I found your business and noticed [specific observation e.g. your site isn't loading properly on mobile / you don't have a website yet / your site looks like it could do with a refresh].

I work for DH Website Services and we build fast, professional websites starting from £399. We specialise in clean, modern sites that help businesses make a strong first impression online.

If it's something you've been thinking about, get back to me whenever suits and I'll send over some examples of our work and what we can put together for you.

[Your Company issued Signature]

Finding Leads

- Search the trade + city on Google Maps (e.g. "plumber Glasgow")
- Find the business name and owner's first name -> often on their website or Facebook page
- Check their website for the specific observation: mobile issues, missing contact form, outdated design
- Log every lead in the tracking sheet before sending

After They Reply

- Respond the same day if possible
- Give them a quick rundown of their website, any issues (If applicable). Let them know how we could fix that and get them more leads

- Confirm which package fits their needs and send a clear summary of what's included
- Once agreed, pass the lead to the team to raise the invoice and begin onboarding

6. Objection Handling

Most objections come down to price, timing, or uncertainty. The goal is never to pressure — it's to understand what's holding them back and address it honestly.

Objection	Response
"It's too expensive."	"That's understandable, what would you be looking to invest? Our Basic package starts at £399 which is a one-off cost, and most clients make that back Ten-fold in the long run just from being more visible and having a website that professionally represents them. A bad website or no website is costing you more than that every month in missed enquiries."
"I already have a website."	"That's great, may I ask when was it last updated? A lot of businesses we speak to have sites that aren't mobile-friendly or aren't showing up on Google. We can take a look for free and tell you honestly whether it's working for you or not."
"I'll think about it."	"Of course, take your time. Is there anything specific holding you back? If it's the cost or the timing just say so and we can have a chat about it — there's no pressure from our end. I'd rather know what's on your mind than leave you with unanswered questions."
"I don't need a website, I get work through word of mouth."	"Word of mouth is great and we'd never want to change that. But what happens when someone gets a recommendation and Googles you to check you out? If there's nothing there, or the site looks outdated, that referral might go elsewhere. A good website backs up your reputation."
"I can build one myself on Wix/Squarespace."	"You absolutely can, and some do a good job of it. But Wix and Squarespace have their limits as you're working from their templates, the sites can be slow, and you don't own the infrastructure. What we build is custom, hosted on our own servers, and built around your business specifically. For £399 you get that in 2-3 weeks without having to spend hours figuring it out yourself."
"I need to speak to my partner/accountant first."	"Of course. Do you want me to send over a one-page summary of what's included and the pricing so you have something to share with them? That way they have all the info they need and it saves you explaining it."
"I'm not sure I need the hosting plan."	"No problem. It's worth knowing that without a hosting plan, any updates, fixes, or backups would need to be sorted separately either by us on a case-by-case basis or by yourself. Our Starter plan is £25/month and covers weekly backups, updates, and email support so the site stays in good shape without you having to think about it. The first month is free if you want to try it."
"How do I know you're reliable?"	"Fair question. We're a small team which means you deal with the same people from start to finish so there's no handoff between departments. We can share examples of our work and we're happy to put everything in writing with a clear contract before any payment is made."
